THE PRICE OF A LIFE.

Cheap in Paris.

For killing one man and badly injuring another, three months' imprisonment and a fine of £24 does not seem an excessive penalty to pay. That, however, was the sentence passed on the driver of the motorcar which ran down a cab and killed its occupant, M. Juttet, chef de cabinet to the Minister of Commerce, and injured the cabman. Two witnesses swore positively that the chauffour was drunk, and was driving too fast. The Comtesse de Nouville said " He was going at such a rate that when he passed my carriage I thought my horse's head would be taken off, I heard the conschman say: He will cortainly kill somebody," Even the excuse the chautfeur, made for taking a busy crossing at top speed ought to have meant 'an extra year's imprisonment. He said , that it was a ven o'clock, and he wanted to get back to dinner. But he only got three months, and his employer will have to pay the fine; as well as £32 damages given to the cabman. If he also obtains the benefit of the First Offenders Act, life may be said to be chesp in Paris.

ATTACK ON FOREIGNERS BY THE HUNGHUTZE.

(By one of them.) On the 7th inst, in the early morning hours, a party of 8 foreign women and of 5 men left Hainmintin en route for the north. The landlord of the Chinese hotel, in which they had lived, procured them carriages, and the landlord accompanied the party to a place outside the city, where.

he left them. About half an hour's sharp drive from the city the inmates of the carte observed at a distance from them many red lanterns, which were moved as if used in signalling by their bearers. .The drivers of the carts had lanterns of the same colour and returned the signals. The foreigners felt uneany and asked what those red lanterns meant, whereupon the drivers declared them to belong to other Chirese passengers travelling by foot.

After some minutes further the drivers stopped at once, turned back to their fares, and declared that Hunghutzes were near by and demanded money and the In emphasizing, their demand they slap-that these two men found out too late that the cartdrivers and the landlord who engaged them were all Hunghutze, and, therefore: frantically searched for the twoforeigners, who, however, succeeded in reaching Heinmintin in search for help. THE WARWICK PAGEANT.

Dramatic Scenes in History.

Preparations for the great historical pagement to be held next July in Warwick Castle grounds have been going forward for the last two months in Warwick, and recently the Marquess of Hertford, Lord-Lieutenant of Warnickshire, presided over a large gathering of county people who had amembled to hear Mr Louis O. Parker, the wellknown dramatist, read the libretto of the pageant. Mr Parker has selected from the history of Warwick twelve of the most impressive episodes, some of which are also of national importance. Thus, there will be a stage battle between Britons and Romans, and King Alfred's daughter will be represented laying the foundation of Warwick Cartle, several hundred years later. Earl Simon de Montfort, champion al of popular liberty, and pioneer of parliaments, will figure prominently as befits his position in English history; the trial of of Piers Galvesion, the favourite of Edward II., will furnish a grimly dramatic episode, and the "Kingmaker's" quarrel with Ede ward IV, and his capture of the latter will, be described in Shakespeare's language. Five hundred people will take part in a magnificent representation of Queen Elizabeth's state entry into Warwick, and altogether there will be nearly fifteen hundred performers. Mr James Rhoades, the wellknown poet, has written some beautiful verse for the pageant.

SCHOOLROOM HUMOUR.

Children's Unconscious Wit.

Schoolroom bumour is illustrated by hundreds of quaint examples collected by Dr Macraman in the Christmas number of the - Schoolmaster."

'What is a wiflow?' asked a teacher. · Please, ma'ani, a woman what marries the lodger,' answered a little girl.

In an essay on 'Dreams,' a boy who had a great dread of arithmetic, related an awful personal experience in which he dreamt he was in Heaven, where-his teacher kept calling out: 'No sums right, stand up!'

Manners were defined by one budding genius as 's very good thing when you are trying for a situation.'

To the poser: 'Why is a motor-car osiled "she'?' a girl answered : "Because it is driven by a man.'

A well-bearded schoolmaster, in an observation lesson on a caf, said : 'Every limb or organ is given it for a particular purpose, and so it is with all of God's creatures-myself, for instance. What part of my person has not its proper use? A solitary hand went up, and the owner oxclaimed: 'Your whiskers, sir!'

Rain, wrote one smart boy in a composition exercise, comes down from heaven on the just and the unjust, but mostly upon the just, because the unjust have borrowed the umbrellas of the just and have forgotten to return them.'

Scripture was ludicrously distorted by a small Londoner, who wrote : ! The Fareses was a very minjy, measley lot. One day one of them gave Our Lord a ponny, and Our Lord held it out in his hand and looked at it with scorn, and said, 'Whose subscription is this?" But the children are not the only unconscious humorists, as the following examples of letters written to teachers;

Sir,-I must strictly forbid you to punish Thes, again for anything he does, as we never do so ourselves except in self-defence-Yours truely. ----

And again :- ' Please excuse Eliza Brown as her mother is ill with her father's, consent, -J, --.

HE DREADED THE SIGHT OF FOOD.

When a man who has not yot reached middle age tells you, seriously, that he dreads the sight of food, no further evidence isneeded to prove that there is something very wrong with him. In ninety-nine such cases out of a handred, the evil will be found to be due to indigestion. It was that, the most prevalent of all complaints, which for five months disabled Mr. E. Nicholson, of No. 31, East Street, Town Quay, Portsmouth, England. He is a well-known and respected tradesman in pain at the stomach," remarked Mr. Nicholson on September 22, 1905, "which gradually grew more intense and constant, until at last I was never without it. Enting always made it worse, and I came to dread the eight of food of any The least morsel would cause me agony. There was great presure at my chest; and I frequently suffored from sick headache, which made me very dizzy and caused everything to spear as though it were spinning around.

I slept badly at night, the pain in my stomach keeping, me awake for hours together, and in the morning I would arise with a bad unpleasant aste in my month.

After enduring this misory for some time, taste in my month. I went to a doctor, and described my symptoms to him. He seemed to understand my care well enough, and gave me some medicine; but it did me no good. Then I tried first one medicine and then another, but all in vain; my health went form bad to worse, until I reached an almost hopeless state. One day, when I was feeling terribly run down, any wife brought in a botile of Mother Seigel's Syrup and set it on the table by the side of my plate. Though I had no faith in it whatever, I allowed myself to be persuaded to take some, and continued to take it. The result very soon delighted and surprised mo, My pain gradually subsided and never returned, the improvement beginning almost with the first dose. There has been no ever I did in my life, though the facts that I have here stated occurred seven years ago." Nothing keeps a man or woman down like indigestion or liver trouble—nothing lifts them up so quickly or so surely as a course of Mether Seigel's Syrup, the remedy that enred Mr. Nicholson. HIGH RENTS AND EMPTY HOUSES.

THE report of the meeting of the Land Investment Company is interesting universal adoption. That is the postreading for those who are not involved. It is not often that plainer and braver words have been spoken in public than those to which Mr Gershom Stewart | made by the Stock Exchange adven-CHEMISTS BY APPOINTMENT gave utterance in his speech. But is the difficulty so great as is here stated or assumed! Indeed, two explanations might be offered. It might be found agreeable amongst the Chinese to crowd into the more central parts of Victoria because of their proximity to their daily duties. But we do not think that this will be found the actual solution of the difficulty-if difficulty there be. Many Chinese workmen go daily to and from Wong. Ngai Chong, and when the Dock Yard disgorges its thousands of workmen at the close of the day they awarm off to Wanchai and other remote parts of Hongkong. The difficulty is very easy of solution and no one needs to hesitate in accepting it. Workmen must crowd together because of the exorbitant rents which landlords now demand for their houses, and if crowding must be done-and the rents cannot be paid those interested prefer to crowd near in the distant future, be decentralised unless there is more or less crowdingtheir daily employments rather than in the more remote parts of the town. Something novel in the way of a New Year's offering was accorded to the anse Co., Ltd., at Co.'s Registered newspapers of New York at the close of 1905 by their typesetters. This was a politely worded note intimating that they proposed to strike, simultaneously with the city clocks, at 12 p.m. on December 31. There is at least originality in the idea. The latest thing in Christmas and New Year greetings to advertise them in the "agony column " of a newspaper. #### SLAUGHTER AT VLADI-VOSTOCK.

The Cossacks at Work.

Sr. Petersburg, January 29.

General Mistchenko and his Cossacks have succeeded in quelling the mutinous regular troops in Vladivostock, at a cost of over four thousand killed and wounded. The fighting was principally in the barricaded atreets, the artillery in the seaward forts having remained loyal. On account of the severe weather the mutineers had abandoned the position they had at first taken up in the earth works on the land side, in order to oppose the advance of the Cossacks. They had however thrown up a number of barricades in the quarter of the town which they occupied, on which were mounted the machine guns they had captured.

General Mistchenko at first shelled the barricades with his artillery, but did not charge them until the mutineers had expended most of their small supply of ammunition. He then carried the barcleades one after the other and the Cossacks took no prisoners.

During the fighting a number of houses were set on fire, and the damage from this and from the looting is considerable,-Ex.

Circular from some European Firms.

PENANG, January 23. Simons and, Co., and Messra Schmidt, Kustermann and Co. have distributed a circular among the Chinese, notifying that they are selling only cloths which do not come from American factories.

This step has been taken as the result of a notification issued by the Penang Drapers Guild that they are not buyers of American goods .- Strait Times.

Comments on the Exhibits:

The Horticultural Society's exhibition, which was so successfully inaugurated yesterday, was again open to the public today and was patronised by large numbers of visitors, both European and Chinese,

The interest that the show has aroused is the future of the Society. Speaking of the show generally it cannot be described as other than a very creditable one for the Colony. In some of the classes it is true that the exhibits are not as numerous or of the quality that might have been desired. but seeing that it is the first show that has been held for so many years some small I slionsunces h ve to be made. Then, again, be remembered that the season just passed through has been a very trying one, indeed, for gardeners, and that they have come through it so well is a matter for congratulation.

In Class 7 Mr Ho Turg's exhibit mignonette and candy tuft is an excellent one, and also is the same gentleman's single pot of mignonette.

Class 9 brought out a fine collection of roses, and Mr Brewin's souvenir d'un ami well deserved the first prize, while Sir Paul Chater's exhibit was a fine specimen of the Catherine Mermet.

... 56 + 14 = 70 Dahlias were well represented, and there was a large collection of very good geraniums.

The camellias, unfortunately, are not seen at their best owing to the bushes unt yet being in flower. They are, however, covered with buds, and in another month would have looked very beautiful. Violets are well represented, and in the section for three flowering plants Miss Loureiro makes a fine showing.

Chinese exhibitors. Mrs Roger's collection well deserved the first prize, although that shown by Mrs Jones Hughes is also very good.

Mr Deacon sent some very fine cauliflowers and cabbages, and an excellent dish of peas is that shown by Mr Ho Tung. Indeed, the success obtained by this gentleman goes far to justify his claim to having the best garden in the Colony.

The Castle Peak Farm's exhibit consisting of bananas, strawberries, sugar-cane, augar made up as used by the Chinese, and numerous minor items.

The special prize for a window box only attracted one exhibit and a rather poor one. Evidently there is very little attention paid thrown on points which were before Chamberlain. to this section of gardening. In out flowers the four bunches sent by the Ladies' Recreation Club were easily first, and Mrs bers of people imagined. Over-confidence to the temptation of a mundane pewter-

THE FAINTING ANAMIO OFTEN BECOMES A HOTELESS CONSUMPTIVE. CURED BY DR WILLIAMS' PINK PILLS.

CITEP by step from the early symptoms O of ansemia to a state of deadly conaumption-how frequently is this history of girls in their teens ! Bogisty will be held at the OFTY A warning comes from the lips of Miss M. Partington, a young lady approaching her eighteenth year, who lives at 65, Highbank-street, Gorton, Manchester, England. She speaks from experience, and does not hesitate to state that Dr

Williams' Pink Pille gave her new, rich blood and brought her back from a decline to health. This is her record : 'I was unable to walk more than a few steps without fainting, nor could I get upstairs without assistance. My lips and as paper. I grew weaker and wesker, and painfully thin; my appetite vanished : m nights were sleepless, and all day felt exhausted. Life became

den. For a long time I had the careful attention of skilful doctors, Miss M. Pantington, but no medicine Custor, for Singapore. Gured of Advanced Angula assemed to help Kestroma, Russian transport, for Japan. by Dr. Williams Pink Pelis me. Indeed, all years passed I grew worse, and fell into a steady decline that nothing seemed to arrest. I only looked ferward to release in a consumptive's death. Then I refused to take more medicine, but soon after was advised to try Dr Williams' Pink Pills and Zielen, for Shanghai. now I can truthfully say that it is solely through these pills I am to day well and hearty, and able to follow my employment | Paoting, for Iloilo. 184 in a cotton mill. As I took the pills my appetite returned and sleep refreshed me. With the second bottle I had strength to leave bed and go downstairs, while a third bottle completely cured me. The new blood that runs through Miss Nubia, for Yokohama. Partington's veins was supplied by Dr | Machew, for Bangkok. Williams' Pink Pills, which have cured in cases innumerable ancemia, indigestion, palpitation, eczema, kidney disease, rhoumatism, selatica St Vitus' Dance, Paralysis, Locomotor Ataxy and women's weakness. full name is on the bottle.
